Director's Report – July 20, 2022 Amy Trumble

Summer Programming events

Both adult and children's programming events have been well attended over the past month and feedback has been has been extremely positive. Brooke had record attendance at her 'Turtles to Go' event on June 30th. There was much interest in the Folk Art workshop, Ukrainian author visit, and Genealogy presentation.

Multifunction copier quotes

We are in the process of receiving quotes for a new copier with faxing and scanning capabilities. Our current unit was purchased in 2014 and is beginning to show signs that it is needing replacement. This would be a one-time purchase in addition to a service contract which would allow for a certain amount of black and white and color copies along with a service agreement for regular maintenance. The cost 8 years ago for our unit was $2495.

Meraki Wifi port for Community Room

Dan Clark is scheduled to give us quotes on the installation of a Meraki wifi port which we already own. If feasible, we are hoping to install it in the Community Room which will strengthen the wifi signal for future presentations and programming.

Epson Digital Scanner

We received the laptop that will operate the Epson digital scanner that we received earlier this year as a part of a grant. We are in the process of getting to software loaded onto the computer so that we can begin in house digitization projects for the library, the historical society, and for community members wishing to preserve their photos and documents through digitization. In addition, we have purchased a carrying case for the unit so that we can take it to other locations if needed.

Microfilm Machine

The microfilm machine has been out of service for some time. We are in the process of getting it up and running again as the New Glarus Post digitization project has only been completed from 1922-1933. Further digitization is on hold at this time as WILS is researching a more user friendly platform for digital newspapers.

Director's Report – August 17, 2022 Amy Trumble

Computer Replacement

We purchased three new hard drives and four new monitors. Patrons now have large monitors that allow for split screen work. Monitors have multiple, easily accessible ports for ease of use and connectivity. Upgraded hard drives will allow for a better overall computer work experience.

Updated Travel Book Section

After assessing our travel collection, it was found that most of our travel books dated back to 2013-2014. Patrons were coming into the library and placing holds from other libraries on more current travel books. We decided to weed out the old travel guides and ordered the most recent guides to replace them. New guides will not only benefit our patrons, but help increase our circulation in this part of the collection.

Local Artist Displays

I spoke with some local artists who are interested in displaying their work in the library. We ordered display easels to ensure proper support for their displays. Some art will be shown in the glass display case, other items will be displayed on the shelving out of the immediate reach of patrons. Pamela Ruschman will begin displaying her paintings the week of August 22. They will remain up for one month. The hope is to draw more people into the library, as well as encourage and support our local artists.

Children's Listening Centers

Four portable listening centers arrived this week. Kids can stop at the desk and get an easy to use listening device with headphones and a book. They can take these to one of our bean bag chairs to listen and read along with a variety of books. It will be a quiet activity that they can do on their own in the library while parents browse for books or use the computers.

New Glarus Lodge Activity

I have been in contact with Haylee Espinoza over at the New Glarus Lodge. We are working together to find activities that the library could host either at the library or at the Lodge. Currently we are each brainstorming ideas and Haylee is talking to the residents to get their input on things they may enjoy. We would like to make it a regular programming occurrence.

Friends of the Library Book Sale

The book sale was very successful. The number of books available was consistent with previous years, however there was less to haul away by the end of the weekend. When we opened Saturday morning there was a line of people waiting outside in the rain for the doors to open. People were extremely generous with their donations.

Art Displays

Pam Ruschman is currently displaying through September. In October we will be displaying a community art project. Patrons are picking up blank pumpkin templates to decorate and return for this display. Erica will then be creating a pumpkin patch on the wall of the children's section of the library. In November, Kari Morrison will be exhibiting artwork of various mediums. I will be contacting other local artists to schedule for upcoming months.

New Glarus Lodge Activity

I met with Haylee at the Lodge, took a tour of their facilities, and met residents to discuss activities that they might enjoy doing with the library. A few residents are regular euchre players and are looking for a fourth player for weekly euchre games. Others may be coming down for the Scrabble Club on Thursdays. I will be taking books and movies to the Lodge every two weeks. We are planning to start a monthly craft project for residents one Friday a month.

Programming Events

Storytime in the Garden took place at the New Glarus School's garden where kids listened to a story about gardening, learned some tips and tricks, and got some hands on experience in the garden. Both kids and parents attended this event. The Not Quite Ricola Swiss herbalism event was held at the Swiss historical village. Swiss herbal traditions were presented by local herbalist Lula Miller as well as Green county master gardeners. They also made sachets using Swiss herbs.

Preparations for Meeting with Schools

In August I began researching Wisconsin authors and their books in hopes of partnering with the schools for author events. I have read books for various age groups and compiled a contact list. I have emails out to a few authors and hope to have information available for the September 30th meeting with Jennifer Thayer and the school librarians.

Director's Report –October 19, 2022 Amy Trumble

Micro Universes Children's Programming

September 30th, when the kids were off school, the library hosted the Welty Environmental Center Micro Universes program. Kids got hands-on experience using digital and traditional compound microscopes to enlarge rocks, leaves, butterfly wings, fingernails, and anything they could find outside to examine under a microscope. Following the event a parent reported that their child was hinting that they might like a microscope of their own!

Library User Guides

Now that traffic in the library is picking up, it is sometimes difficult to find the time to explain all of the services we offer to patrons receiving new library cards. Therefore, we created a "Library User Guide" brochure to hand out to patrons who may not be aware of all that the library has to offer. We will be having SCLS print the brochures. This benefits us in two ways- we get more than $300 printing free from SCLS each year, which saves us money, and the quality of the printing and paper is superior to what we can do currently in the library.

Community Foundation Grant

We are writing a grant proposal for a bench to be placed in Village Park in front of the solar charging station that is arriving soon. This would offer people a place to sit while charging phones or other devices. A bronze plaque would indicate that it was purchased by the New Glarus Public Library with a grant from the Community Foundation of Southern Wisconsin.

Fall and Community Art Projects

Our community art project "pumpkin patch" is now on display in the children's section. Kids and adults submitted their creative designs for the display. Erica has done a great job decorating the rest of the library for the month of October. Brooke's themed Story Time events and grab and go crafts have been a hit this month as well.

Artists Line up

I have been in contact with several local artists and have displays lined up into spring. November we will be featuring the works of Kari Morrison, December and January Chuck Bauer will be exhibiting paintings, and in February Nan Rudd will have her mosaics on display, while her husband Bob will be sharing his art made of old farm machinery.

Report Meeting with Schools

I met with Jennifer Thayer and the school librarians to discuss ways in which we can partner with the schools. They were pleased to hear about the possibility of scheduling an author visit and will take into consideration days that might work for the author to present to multiple age groups in one day. In addition, we confirmed who should receive information regarding library events. They plan to send out a flyer to families regarding Zoozort that's taking place later this month when the kids are off.

Zoozort Live Animal Event

At the end of October we hosted the Zoozort live animal program. Kids were off school and over 175 kids and adults piled into the community room of Village Hall to learn about and touch exotic animals from around the world.

Website and Storage Room Cleanup

During the month of October we started behind the scenes cleanup work on the website and met with the technology experts at SCLS to prepare for our website update. A new version of website software is being installed this month. We have been removing outdated information and exploring ideas for refreshing the look of the site. Other cleanup notes, we have been working our way through the storage room to clean out, take inventory of, and organize our supplies and equipment.

Return to In-person Children's Programming

We will be gradually moving back to Story Times in the community room on Wednesdays in November. We plan to expand children's programming in the new year to include a Movers and Shakers program on Fridays. We are exploring options for bringing in live music entertainment for the kids one Friday a month.

Community Connections

I recently met with Milo Parker from the Lions Club and discussed a variety of partnering opportunities. We will be meeting later this month to talk about a musical club offering in the community room centered on learning to play the dulcimer. Other opportunities include partnering with the Lions for free kids vision tests, book give away contest ideas, as well as working with the Lions Club to establish and help fill additional Little Free Libraries in New Glarus.

School Outreach

Elementary School and High School art teachers were contacted to see if they are interested in getting into the art display queue. We would love to have exhibitions of the work of young local artists in addition to current display lineup. We have scheduled an elementary school exhibition for March.

Website Update Complete

Our new webpage went public November 30th. Changes were made to the font, layout, sidebars, and search bar. The goal was to make the site easier to read and navigate, and give it an overall cleaner, more modern look. We look forward to working with the new features this version offers. Be sure to check it out when you have time.

Sugar River Dulcimer Group

The library is working with Milo Parker and local dulcimer players to host a music opportunity for members of the surrounding communities. All are welcome to join Milo and friends on the first and third Wednesdays of the month from 11a.m. to 1p.m. Dulcimers and sheet music are available for use.

A New Painting Exhibition

Local artist, Chuck Bauer, is displaying his paintings during the months of December and January. Chuck specializes in en plein air painting and likes to work from nature whenever possible. Many of his works are set in rural southern Wisconsin as well as the Madison area. His work is unique in that he uses abstract approaches and bold colors to portray natural themes.

Study Carrels

Our new study carrels arrived! In order to make the copier accessible to patrons we needed to move a computer station. The result was that we had two computer stations at the same table in close proximity to one another. In order to offer some separation and privacy for computer users we purchased two study carrels. Patrons have been using them and appreciate having their own individual space to work.

New Glarus Public Library is on Instagram!

Julie was hard at work last month getting us set up with an Instagram account. We are now public on the app. It will be used as an extension of our webpage and Facebook and contain the same information in picture form in order to reach a wider population of all that the library has to offer. As the formulas for Facebook and Instagram are different we should be able to reach more people. We can monitor the metrics and time spent updating Instagram posts to determine how effective and useful it is as a tool for informing the community about library happenings.
